MISSION STATEMENT

"Our mission is to provide safe, reliable electricity and quality services for our members at a reasonable cost."

SAVINGS TIP

Your laundry room is a great place to save energy. Wash clothes with cold water and cut one load's energy use by more than half. Your washing machine will use the same amount of energy no matter the size of the clothes load, so fill it up when you can. When drying clothes, separate the heavier cottons so the load will dry faster and more evenly.

co-op news

PREPARING TO BETTER SERVE YOU

Providing reliable power to you is, and will always be, top priority for Daviess-Martin County REMC. These days, power reliability seems to be making news now more than ever.

As the energy industry continues to transition and more segments of the economy are becoming electrified, such as vehicles, machinery and even lawn equipment, additional pressures are being placed on our nation's electric grid.

With the summer storm season upon us, I thought it would be a good time to tell you about the measures we're taking to ensure you continue receiving the reliable power you depend on and deserve.

Let me be the first to say I love trees and what they add to our communities, and I know you do, too. While trees provide shade and add beauty to our area, you may be surprised to learn that overgrown vegetation accounts for about half of all power outages.

That's why we strive to keep the co-op's power lines clear in right-of-way (ROW) areas. A ROW area is the land a co-op uses to construct, maintain, replace or repair underground and overhead power lines. This ROW enables Daviess-Martin County REMC to provide clearance from trees and other obstructions that could hinder distribution power lines. The overall goal of our vegetation management strategy is to provide reliable power to our members while maintaining the beauty of our area.

MODERNIZING VEGETATION MANAGEMENT

Generally speaking, healthy trees don't fall on power lines, and clear lines don't cause problems. Proactive trimming and pruning keeps lines clear to improve power reliability. However, traditional vegetation management is costly and time-consuming. It entails on-the-ground, labor-intensive efforts involving dozens of workers assessing vegetation and overseeing the quality and completion of contractor work. Although this approach has worked for decades, advances and improvements in technology have allowed us to reduce our costs and improve efficiency.

Vegetation management is an essential tool in ensuring power reliability and minimizing the risk of outages. As advancements become more accessible and costs drop, we anticipate using additional technologies such as drones and light detection and ranging (LiDAR), a remote sensing method that uses a pulsed laser to measure variable distances, to ensure a consistent energy supply while managing the environment.

I encourage you to follow Daviess-Martin County REMC on social media so you can learn about the latest co-op updates.

MEDICAL PRIORITY

Did you know that if you or a member of your household relies on life-sustaining equipment you could be the first on our list to restore when the power goes out?

When we are aware of these situations, we can keep you informed of extended or planned outages. This does not guarantee uninterrupted service but can help us get to you faster or make you aware of planned outages so you can make arrangements. For this reason, we do suggest you obtain a back-up system, such as batteries or generators.

All you have to do is head to dmremc.com/medical-priority and fill out the form and upload your statement that shows you require medical support. You may also bring your statement by the DMREMC office.

This is an annual form so you will have to do this once a year so we know that you still require medical priority.

TELL US HOW WE'RE DOING!

YOU MAY BE ASKED TO PARTICIPATE IN A SURVEY

In an upcoming survey conducted by Cooperative Insights, some members will be randomly selected to provide feedback about your cooperative.

The survey will:

- Take 15-20 minutes to complete.
- Help your cooperative understand how it is doing.
- Ask about customer satisfaction, your cooperative's strengths, weaknesses and reliability, and opinions on emerging technologies like renewable energy.

If you are contacted, we strongly encourage you to participate and provide honest feedback to help us better understand how we can best provide our members with The Cooperative Difference.
